CHUBBY RYDELL BOBBY CHECKER

By my knowledge, since in the history of our business have two such close buddies as Chubby and Bobby recorded individually to such great fame and still remained close friends. From the beginning they helped one another by appearing on each others records, if only to do some hand-clapping. The showing around that they were doing was that in the recording studio was the best idea for the album. They have for a long time wanted to do a record together and from their clapping has come an album that is a real recording history. As far as we know this is the first time in recording history that two normal recording artists of such individual great talents have combined on one album for all to enjoy. The recording studio with its hard lighting and cold recording equipment never allow when these two have found the table for the first time. Without knowing what caused it, the business has that there has been a great and joyful occasion and a genuine idea. What resulted was probably one of the "Great Five" records ever recorded. The reason itself has almost a first performance quality to it, that is the unshakable and great individual performance given by both Chubby and Bobby. It is a great credit to both these two boys that in spite of the great success that these boys have enjoyed, they remain two normal very nice, well adjusted teenagers that in this album get a chance to together entertain you.
