

Linda Ronstadt - Prisoner In Disguise

Released in 1975, Prisoner In Disguise further fortified Ronstadt's standing as one of America's most popular interpretive singers.

After the success of Heart Like A Wheel, Linda Ronstadt released Prisoner In Disguise in 1975, which further fortified her standing as one of America's most popular interpretive singers. The album yielded two strong singles, her beautiful renditions of the Motown classics "Heat Wave" and "Tracks of My Tears." In addition the album included a banjo-strumming version of Neil Young's "Love Is a Rose," a plaintive pop reading of Jimmy Cliff's reggae classic "Many Rivers to Cross" and a lovely cover of Dolly Parton's "I Will Always Love You." On Prisoner In Disguise Ronstadt delivers another collection of well-crafted, carefully arranged rock, pop and country songs that wonderfully exemplify her fine talent and taste.

Love Is A Rose

Hey Mister, That's Me Up On The Jukebox

Roll Um Easy

Tracks Of My Tears

Prisoner In Disguise

Heat Wave

Many Rivers To Cross

The Sweetest Gift

You Tell Me That I'M Falling Down

I Will Always Love You

Silver Blue

Preorder; to be released soon