

Tom & The Heartbreakers Petty - Damn the Torpedoes (2 LP, 180 g)
Re-Issue des 1979er Albums.

Certain albums define their era and Tom Petty's third record, Damn the Torpedoes, released at the end of 1979, captures that timeless quality mainstream American rock delivered with deceptive ease at the turn of the decades. Like his contemporaries - Bruce Springsteen, Warren Zevon, Bob Seger - Petty employed a neo-classic brand of rock n' roll, a grand and dense guitar-organ-bass-drum approach that recalled the Byrds, Stones, Dylan template of his youth. Producer Jimmy Lovine kept things sharp, bright and modern, devoid of gimmicks and highlighting a tight, live feel that delivers pure sonic voodoo. The aching, chiming twelve-string guitars that coalesce at the chorus of "Here Comes My Girl," the crashing guitar-organ drama that pumps "Refugee" and "Even The Losers" and the staccato urgency of "Don't Do Me Like That" sound as fresh today as the day of their release. Torpedoes cemented Petty's status as a writer and singer of consequence and has provided him with tunes that became immediate permanent live staples.

Pressung bei Pallas in Deutschland. Mastering durch Bernie Grundman. Inklusive 12-seitigem Booklet.

Titel:

Disc 1 Side A

Refugee

Here Comes My Girl

Even The Losers

Shadow Of A Doubt (A Complex Kid)

Century City

Disc 1 Side B

Don't Do Me Like That

You Tell Me

What Are You Doin' In My Life?

Louisiana Rain

Disc 2 Side A

Nowhere

Surrender

Casa Dega

It's Rainin' Again

Disc 2 Side B

Shadow Of A Doubt (A Complex Kid) (Live)

Don't Do Me Like That (Live)

Somethin' Else (Live)

Casa Dega (Demo)

Refugee (Alternate Take)

• Musikstil: Rock

• Interpret: Tom & The Heartbreakers Petty

• Titel: Damn the Torpedoes

• Normale LP (2 LP, 180 g)

• Label: Reprise